Submarines Likely to Figure in Disarmament Deliberations

UNDERWATER CRAFT WILL BE PERMITTED NAVAL EXPERTS SAY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Submarines are certain to figure largely in the deliberations of naval experts of the "big" five group now in progress. It is regarded as virtually certain, however, that the experts will find themselves in agreement that submarines have a very definite place in naval warfare, and that no serious proposal to abolish the underwater craft will be advanced. There may be some effort to limit the size of future submarines, and the limit agreed upon will not, unless all signs fail, prevent the use of submarines as fleet elements for operations on the high seas.

A statement on behalf of Japan on general questions relating to the far east was made at today's session of the conference committee on Pacific and far eastern affairs. It was arranged as a complete public statement to be issued later through the state department. All delegation heads were understood to have expressed agreement at least in principle with the Chinese views.

Tsunoda Shidehara, who presented the Japanese viewpoint, is said to have shown a friendly attitude toward the Chinese proposals and to have indicated that there would be no material objection by Japan to making them part of the proposed agreement on far eastern and Pacific problems.

Japan desires to make "whatever contributions we are capable of toward China's realization of her just and legitimate aspirations," the commission discussing the far eastern question was told by the Japanese delegation. "We are entirely unimpaired by any policy of territorial aggrandizement in any part of China," said the formal statement of Japan's attitude. Regarding China's proposal that extra-territoriality be abolished, the Japanese delegation said it was its intention to join with the delegates in endeavoring to come to an arrangement in a manner fair and satisfactory to all parties.

The heads of the delegations from nine nations participating in the discussion were understood at the executive committee session to have expressed themselves as heartily adhering to the principles of the open door, equal opportunity and territorial integrity of China.

Announcement that there would be a resumption of work on the property of the North Divide Extension Mining company within the near future, and that a consolidation of the North Divide group of 11 claims and the North Divide Extension group of six claims, caused quite a little movement of shares in the new company on the San Francisco exchange today. There were traded today 4000 shares at 5 cents.

There are three shafts on this property. One incline has a depth of 450 feet, while another incline has a depth of 250 feet. In addition to this a two-compartment vertical shaft was sunk two and a half years ago to a depth of 250 feet. The property is well equipped with necessary machinery.

MERGER DRILL POUNDS AWAY AT 1025 FEET

The Fish Lake Merger oil well is now down a few feet past the 1025-foot point, and there is no material change in conditions, according to Charles W. Taylor, president and general manager of the company, who arrived in Tonopah last night. A softer formation has been penetrated during the past few feet, and as a result it is expected that much better headway will result in the future. The big drill is being operated on two 12-hour shifts, and it is anticipated that results will be forthcoming within the near future.

The new generator recently installed is furnishing lights for the Merger camp and the incandescent globes light the country for some distance. Old-timers of Fish Lake were befuddled when they saw the bright spots and many made trips to the Merger well, thinking that something out of the ordinary was taking place.
